

The European Inter-University Centre for Human Rights and Democratisation (EIUC) is one of the main European academic institutions, supported by the European Union, aimed at pursuing the continued promotion of human rights and democratisation through education, specialised training, research cooperation, and an expanding range of other activities. EIUC is committed to fostering a community of leaders with professional competence, problem-solving capacities and creativity to improve human rights implementation worldwide. EIUC is an interdisciplinary Centre formed by the following 41 European universities:

In the framework of the Human Rights Village project jointly launched with the City of Venice, EIUC offers different teaching programmes and research activities such as:

- European Master's Programme in Human Rights and Democratisation (E.MA)
- GIZ/EIUC Académie d'été sur "La gouvernance de la transition au Maghreb"
- Venice School of Human Rights
- Venice Academy of Human Rights
- Regional Masters in Human Rights and Democratisation
- Professional training seminars.

Venue

The venue of E.MA and EIUC is the graceful Benedictine Monastery of San Nicolò, situated on the laguna side of the Lido di Venezia.

The monastery was founded in the 11th century and transformed into a Renaissance cloister in the 16th century. After the suppression of the Benedictine order in 1770, the monastery was re-opened by Franciscan monks for educational purposes.

In 1998, the City of Venice generously conceded use of this architectural and historical monument as the seat of EIUC.

The 2011 Diplomatic Conference on Comparative Approaches to Democratic Transitions aims at comparing periods of democratic transition from the experiences of Spain and Portugal, the central and Eastern Europe countries and the actual situation of Egypt, Tunisia, Morocco, Libya, etc.
