

The European Inter-University Centre for Human Rights and Democratisation (EIUC) is one of the main European academic institutions, supported by the European Union, aimed at pursuing the continued promotion of human rights and democratisation through education, specialised training, research cooperation, and an expanding range of other activities. EIUC is committed to fostering a community of leaders with professional competence, problem-solving capacities and creativity to improve human rights implementation worldwide. EIUC is an interdisciplinary Centre formed by the following 41 European universities:

The European Master's Programme in Human Rights and Democratisation (E.MA) - together with the Venice School of Human Rights and the Venice Academy of Human Rights - is the EIUC's main teaching programme. E.MA is an intensive one-year advanced master's programme to educate 90 professionals annually in the field of human rights and democratisation. It is an interdisciplinary programme that reflects the indivisible links between human rights, democracy, peace and development. E.MA graduates are now more than 1000 and are working for governments, major international organisations, and non-governmental organisations in and outside Europe.
